

Mark Twain's work on Joan of Arc is titled in full, Personal Recollections of Joan of Arc, by the Sieur Louis de Conte, who is identified further as Joans page and secretary. The fictional work is presented as a translation from a manuscript by Jean Francois Alden, or, in the words of the published book, Freely Translated out of the Ancient French into Modern English from the Original Unpublished Manuscript in the National Archives of France. Originally, Mark Twain's novel was published as a serialization in Harpers Magazine beginning in 1895 and it was published in book form in 1896. At Twain's request, Harpers Magazine published it anonymously to avoid expectations for it to be humorous. This version includes new illustrations.
